FOREWORD

The annual of 1945 was made possible because of a purpose. The purpose was laid down long before the first die was cast or the first copy corrected. It has been the guide-post of your staff.

This year we have striven to make this annual synonymous with R. P. I. Call it an echo, a looking-glass or merely the spirit of college. It is for this purpose, of the students, by the students, and for the students, that the WIGWAM is dedicated . . . your album of memoirs.

DEDICATION

The WIGWAM Staff gratefully dedicates its 1945 issue to Dr. Howard H. Davis because of his kindness, his intellectual integrity, and his ever present interest in the students.

THE COLLEGE

The Richmond Professional Institute of the College of William and Mary consists of a group of professional schools and departments to which has been added a junior college of liberal arts and sciences.

R. P. I. is, as its name implies, a professional institute located in the central section of Richmond. The school offers a wide variety of programs extending not only through the usual four college years, but in certain fields, into one or two years of graduate work.

The Institute has its own faculty, its own campus, and a separately organized student life. The entrance requirements, like its objectives and purposes, are entirely different from the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg and other liberal arts colleges.

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

Occupational therapy is the newest addition to the courses offered at the Richmond Professional Institute. The enrollment has shown a heartening growth since the school opened in September of 1942. Students represent eight different states, including Virginia, and the island of Puerto Rico. The qualifications of these students range from a high school diploma to college degrees and varied experience in the business and professional world.

The school offers a course, approved by the American Medical Association, equally divided between theory and activities. The theory courses include medical lectures, anatomy, occupational therapy and rehabilitation, psychology, and elective courses selected from other departments. The activity courses include weaving, woodworking, leatherwork, bookbinding, and other skills a student will find useful in her treatment of patients. Following a trend preceding the war but accelerated by it, occupational therapy is broadening its scope in the rehabilitation field.

MINORITY CLUB

OFFICERS

JAMES FISH ..... President
EARL M. WOOD ..... Vice-President
LEROY BUCKNER ..... Secretary and Treasurer
WILLIAM C. KOLB ..... Inter-Club Representative

The purpose of the Minority Club is to provide a means of fellowship. The group was originally organized in 1942, but was discontinued in 1943-44. The male students on this campus realized the need for fellowship, so they again got together and reorganized. They hope to attract many more male students to the Richmond Professional Institute.

Dr. Howard Davis ..... Sponsor

Today many of the International Relations Clubs in foreign countries have had to be discontinued because of the war. We here in one of the last strongholds of democracy, America, should do everything possible to keep up the spirit of the I.R.C. However, our attention today has been turned toward the bettering of international relations in the post-war world.

This year for the first time R.P.I. had four very school spirited Cheer Leaders. Spurred on by Toni Overcash, (and the tin can), they led the cheers at all the basketball games. Toni Overcash had as her able supporters, in making the rafters ring, Mary Helen Holmes, Mary Louise Dollard and Laura Ann Barrett.

We tip our hats off to you, girls, in boosting us along!

HOCKEY SQUAD

With the coaching of Miss E. J. Nesbitt and the management of Virginia Vanni, the hockey squad had a successful and up-coming season. Mary Munce was elected Captain for the '44 team.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Every student is a member of the Athletic Association. Many sports are offered, including hockey, basketball, tennis, archery, bowling, volley ball, hiking, horseback riding, and swimming. Equipment is also provided for badminton, ping pong, shuffle-board, deck tennis, and paddle tennis.

There has been a stronger effort this year to create a greater interest and participation in the Athletic Association, chiefly by enlarging the Athletic Council to include not only the officers of the association, but also representatives from each class plus the manager and captain of each sport, and by enlarging athletic activities.

Special events sponsored by the Athletic Association during the year have been the Freshman Party, Athletic Association Dance, Bridge Parties, and a Banquet planned at the end of the year to include all the members of the Athletic Association.

Letters are awarded in hockey and basketball and tennis on the basis of skill, sportsmanship, interest, and attendance at practice and games.

How To Be Happy . . .

A wise editor has written that there are seven ways to be happy and that the fellow who is smart enough to keep out of debt won't need the other six. To keep out of debt, one must learn early in life to practice thrift. There is no way to practice thrift that is safer and surer than the "Natural-Bridge" Way.

Sometimes it is the nature of a craft to create an unbreakable tie between itself and the worker in that field, a heart attachment equal to lifetime devotion. One familiar example is PRINTING. Once editor, once compositor, or pressman catches the spirit of the shop, the spell is seldom broken. Like the odor of a camp fire, or a whiff of salt air, the beloved tang of printer's ink, symbolical of a great profession, gets into your heart and soul. School Annuals, Magazines, Newspapers and Special Printing, all smack of it. It is an invisible link that binds all intelligence together. It is the stimulus for creation in business or romance. This craftsmanship, this devotion to service and alertness to business needs, has nourished and developed an enormous industrial vitality, and whichever way the course of the future runs, the printer will always find himself able to adapt his helpfulness to new opportunity.

Years of experience have taught us! Printing Pays Us Only When It Pays You!
